"...within a womb, a house or the parameters of a dream...a mother's lap takes the form of a chair"

Wayne Vesti Andersen

Flowers is pleased to announce an exhibition of new photographs by Mona Kuhn. Bordeaux Series will run from February 24 through March 24, 2012 with a reception for the artist on Thursday, February 23, 6-8pm. Her latest monograph will be available.

Each year Mona Kuhn embarks on a twenty-six hour crossing, through 9 time zones, from her house in Los Angeles to her small isolated home situated on a remote region near Bordeaux, France. There is no electricity but a collection of oil lamps, the house is minimal with no superfluous material items but abundant with spirit. During the course of this yearly interval, existing here provides a sanctuary of simple life in an unembellished dwelling. Time spent is cherished by extended family and friends.

As I step into this house, I enter a parallel reality that unravels and exists only for a few months of the year. We cook and gather around the table. We speak plainly together of ourselves, and it feels as though these moments we have shared over the years are strung together into a braid of tales. As the night arrives, we are surrounded by the dark silhouettes of pine trees and the sensual play of wind on foliage. The smell of resin mixes with the verbena in our tea. The days fill up with a sense of abandon, as if life in between never mattered.

Close friends and family have their portrait taken in the same chair in the same room, with a red patterned fabric behind them. Bare natural light floods into the room.

It is a rather classic approach to the portrait, which I feel is in sympathy with the plainness and simplicity of the place. I don't mention how my subjects should pose. I prefer to let them find their own positions and body language, allowing the method of expression to seek its own paths. Over recent years, I have photographed my visitors – friends who are closest to me, sometimes friends of friends, who come to stay for a while or at times just for a few moments – just like that, in the same room with the same chair. The photographs are similar to bread crumbs that I throw on the path to help me memorize a way back to this place and these emotions.
